

Scottish Whin

Scottish Whinstone is a hard, attractive and versatile Dolerite material. Used historically for paving and walling throughout the UK and overseas.

Tradstocks offer this unique stone for contemporary applications, public realm and heritage sites.

Generally dark grey with light grey/red variation, the stone can be supplied in a range of dimensions and finishes.

- Quarried and processed in Scotland.
- An indigenous, sustainable alternative to imported granite and basalt.
- High performance material - fully tested
- Competitively priced
- Short lead times in comparison with imports - Standard items can often be supplied ex stock from our expanded facilities.
